Count Response

1 I thought Bill did an excellent job with his presentation. He is very high energy, very engaging, and shared plenty of good information with us. He certainly intrigued me with his presentation. Perhaps there was a little bit much of a sell job for his company, but, can't blame him I guess for that. My response to the question on answering questions was low because there was no Q&A.

1 I would like more info on this for my company

1 Mr. Sims was an excellent speaker (to be honest, better than I expected from observing him before class) and I would like to consider having him make a presentation to my company. The only down side was that he promised everyone that filled in a paper review that they would get a book - but they only seemed to have enough for 20 to 30% of the attendees. Yes - he did say after running out that we would get an on-line version, but... This was not a good way to end an otherwise really good presentation.

1 Really enjoyed this session.

1 Room too small

1 Same title that I have heard before but with new useful information.

1 The only issue was technical, the videos didn't show quite right. Also, it was disappointing to be told we would receive a book and they ran out. However, the speaker was wonderful; the topic was interesting, it made sense and seems like it should be easy to implement. It would be great if our management would buy in and have him work with us.

1 The speaker was great but, once again the room was terrible. Whoever decided to set the room up with the screen in the corner was an idiot. If you sat on the left side of the room you had to turn sideways to be able to see and as crowded as it was that was impossible

1 This session was entertaining but there were not enough applicable tools provided to take this back to my plant and use.

1 Well done great topic
